How to Participate

The Cost of Poverty Experience is a hands on simulation that explores the lived experience of poverty firsthand through the eyes of real families. The experiential nature of this training helps communities more deeply understand the human and systemic impacts of poverty.

For years, many well-intentioned approaches to poverty have left out the wisdom and leadership of those closest to the challenges. Created with the input of individuals with personal experience in poverty, COPE sheds light on these challenges and catalyzes meaningful dialogue and action. This experience challenges participants to rethink poverty, respond effectively, and partner with those affected for change.

This is a free event made possible with the generous sponsorship of The CareSource Foundation
